

Glover Family Update 2012

Glovers and Related Ancestry

(The following is the data compiled by Fannie Jones Glover, but some of her data has been proven to be in error. It is believed that Sarah Elizabeth Mason's account is more accurate.)

There were Glovers settled in Virginia by the middle of the seventeenth century. It has been presumed that these Glovers were the descendants of Richard Glover who emigrated to America on the Assurance, July 4, 1635, and Mary Brook Glover as Mary's will mentions a son, Richard, in America. Richard's father was most probably named Robert. and his mother Mary. The first Richard was one of three children born to Robert Glover a London Merchant that we know of: Richard, Elizabeth, and John. (See Chapter: Glovers of Marengo County, pages 6-9 for further information.)

The Virginia emigrant Richard is presumed to have settled in York County, Virginia, and married Mary Brook near James River, Virginia. He had a number of children, some remaining in Virginia while others went to Kentucky and the more Southern and Western states. One son, Thomas, a scholar and writer of merit, resided in Jamestown from 1664– 1667. Other children may have been Benjamin, Joseph, William, Frederick, and Amy. We think William is our ancestor, but it is possible that we stem from the Glovers who were in the Isle of Wight, Surry, and Sussex Counties in Virginia about the turn of the century.

Further research is needed to establish the line conclusively, but the following seems probable. There is no doubt as to our ancestry beginning with Frederick, b. 1740 and who was married to (1) Elizabeth Cato, and (2) Sarah Bean. Earlier ancestry is probable because of similarity of names, places, and dates. (Winifred Glover Boone Klein) (Other sources speculate that Frederick was only married once to Sarah Bean. CBA)

Robert Glover of London, England, had 3 children

1. Richard Glover, a merchant m. Mary Brook
2. Elizabeth Glover m. Edward Booker in Virginia
3. John Glover, lived in Amsterdam and helped to manage the shipping interests of his brother Richard who lived in Virginia.

I. Richard Glover married Mary Brook, 1635 in Virginia

II Benjamin Glover m. Mary Allen
 b. c 1635
 Lived in Jamestown, VA

III. William Glover m. Mary Burton Davis, Henrico Co., VA. They moved to the coastal region of NC in 1690, and he served briefly as Colonial Governor of NC.

IV. William Glover m. Mary Norwood on 30 July 1724,
b. 1695 b. c. 1700
d. 1754. d. 1763

Mary was the daughter of William and Lydia Norwood. (Will probated Surry County, VA 7 March 1703)

William's will was probated in August Court, Northhampton Co., NC, 1754. It named children, Lydia, John, George, Joseph. Benjamin, Sarah. and one granddaughter, Caroline Young.

Mary named Frederick, grandson, as executor of her will. There were many Glover-Norwood marriages in succeeding generations as the two families traveled together from Virginia to North Carolina, to South Carolina to Alabama.

Lydia, daughter of William and Mary Norwood Glover, married a Harris. Their daughter Mourning Harris married John Norwood, and their daughter Sarah Serena Norwood married Allen Glover. There were probably other children.

In the 1750's the names of these Glovers appear on the muster rolls for the Granville County, NC militia. In 1764 the regiment commanded by Col. William Eaton had a company under Capt. John Glover (97 men) which included among others: William Glover, John Glover, Jr.; Joseph Glover all privates; and George Glover, Lt. This generation most probably remained in NC, though by the time of the Revolution they had scattered into other counties and a large group of them seemed to have moved south to the Old Ninety-Sixth District of South Carolina.

V.. Benjamin Glover m. Elizabeth (Williamson?*)

Benjamin was the only son of William Glover to remain in Northampton County. He must have lived on the Beaverpond Plantation which William Glover patented in 1722, working with his father and managing the farm for him. Northampton County deed books show no land purchases for Benjamin. No land grants were found for him. After her husband's death, Mary (Norwood) Glover made her home with this son.

Will in Northampton County, NC, 1764, names only wife Elizabeth, but there were apparently a number of children.

* " There is no hint anywhere of Elizabeth's maiden name. Could it be Williamson? And Louis Williamson a witness to the will to protect her interests? The Glovers have a penchant for using surnames as given names, and Williamson is used for descendants in two lines from Benjamin Glover.

- a. Frederick Glover (Named in grandfather's will)

Since the abstract of Benjamin's will, 1764, does not name issue, the above is largely based on the similarity of names and dates. A search of NC records might establish some descendants.

VI. Frederick Glover

- b. 1740
- d. 1797-98

Very little is actually known about him. He was undoubtedly born in North Carolina, probably about 1740 as he must have been of legal age to administer his grandmother's estate in 1763. He was twice married; first to Elizabeth Cato(?). One daughter Olivia, was born to them, and she married an English officer in the American Army by the name of William Young. His second wife was Sarah Bean, daughter of William Bean of North Carolina., and she was the mother of the other children. The Beans evidently moved to SC with Frederick and Sarah. This was probably as early as 1772. (Deed from William Bean to Sarah and Frederick for 60 acres 13 July 1771). This area of SC was a frontier outpost then, the site of numerous skirmishes with Indians, Tories, and English regulars. By 1790 the region was populous enough to be divided into several counties. The first census lists several families of Glovers, as well as Harris, Wardlaws, Norwoods, and Porters, probably all closely related. It is probably this Frederick who served in the SC Militia during the Revolution and on 18 July 1785, received payment of 3 pounds, 11 shillings, 5 pence for his services. (Salley A.S., Stub entries of endents issued in payment of claims against SC growing out of the Revolution. Columbia, SC 1951 #642, Book U) At the same time John and Drewry Glover received payment for their services.

GLOVER FAMILY UPDATE 2014

In the first census 1790, Abbeville District SC, Frederick is listed as having in his household besides himself:

2 males over 16 years of age (Allen and John F.)

2 females (Likely his daughters)

Frederick's eldest son, Benjamin, was in Wilkes County, GA, 1788-90 as his name appears on deeds and transactions in Georgia. Benjamin's father-in-law John Oliver, was living in Georgia at that time. Since no wife is mentioned in Frederick's will, Sarah must have died before 1797.

Frederick's will is dated 31 Dec. 1796, proved 15 Sept. 1798, in Edgefield District, SC (Box 39, Pk. 834) Named in his will were the following issue:

A. Mary Olivia Glover (Mother was Elizabeth Cato?)

B. Benjamin Glover

C. Allen Glover

D. John Frederick Glover

E. Willey Glover

F. Wiley Glover

Of these Benjamin, Allen and Willey migrated to Marengo County, Alabama, and the children of Olivia and John Frederick came with them. Only Wiley Glover remained in South Carolina

Benjamin was the oldest son of Frederick Glover, though the birth date may be wrong. He married Mary (Polly) Oliver, probably in Wilkes Co., GA. She was the daughter of John Oliver who left a will dated 11 August 1796 in which he names his daughter Polly Glover (Wilkes, Georgia Wills 1792-1801, 197). John Oliver's father was Dianysius Oliver who married Mary Anne Winfrey. Dianysius' father was Peter Oliver who married Anne McCartie June 25, 1706. Peter's father was John Oliver 1647. Anne's parents were Florence McCartie and Mary McCartie who died in 1717.

Benjamin and his father-in-law John Oliver purchased 1000 acres from John Cargile of Wilkes Co. 19 March 1788 (Wilkes, CA D.B. "EE" 1788-90, 29). In this deed Benjamin is referred to as "of Abbeville Co., SC" but he must have been in Georgia when the first census was taken in 1790. Unfortunately, Georgia's first census was burned and no record exists. Other Glovers, probably closely related to those in western SC were in Wilkes and Elbert counties 1788-96, separated only by the Savannah River from those in the Ninety-Sixth District. Benjamin and his brother Allen were in Abbeville when Bishop Asbury (Methodist) visited the region in 1814/5.

The two brothers, with other members of their family (possibly a group of 200 from the old 96th District of SC), migrated to central Alabama in 1818-19. Benjamin died the next year of pneumonia in 1820 as he was a civil engineer and exposed to the elements as he was surveying and laying out the township of Demopolis, AL. Since there was no easy way of making a coffin, his slaves hollowed out a large live-oak tree and made a resting place near his two story log cabin on the high chalk cliffs on the banks of the Tombigbee River. He left no will but his estate was inventoried and settled April 10, 1820. The appraisers were Nathaniel Norwood (who became guardian of the younger son Benjamin, Jr.), Burton Chappell, Isaac Perkins, and Ludowick Moore. Allen was a witness to the final settlement. Benjamin had established a plantation called "White Hall" near the present site of McKinley, and the graves of his wife and son are there. Ben left no will but his estate was inventoried and settled 10 Apr., 1820 with the final settlement on 21 May 1821 (Marengo AL Wills A, 1). The estate was settled by his wife Polly Glover and his son-in-law Samuel B. Shields. Appraisers were Nathaniel Norwood (who became the guardian of his minor son Benjamin, Jr.), Burton Chappell, Isaac C. Perkins and Ludowick Moore.

It is interesting to note that in the year 1819, the same year in which the Glovers migrated from South Carolina to Alabama, the followers of Napoleon settled in the Black Belt of Alabama also. Napoleon had sent scouts from France to America to find a land suitable for the growth of grapes and olives, and the place they selected was called Demopolis, named for Napoleon's last battle. The French sailed from New Orleans up the Tombigbee River and settled in log cabins—with all their fine furniture and court manners—naturally enduring many hardships. The olive trees failed to grow well, but the grapes thrived, so the people were at least able to make enough money to survive. Later when the rich black land was cultivated, cotton and sugar cane were grown. Many descendants of this first French colony still live around Demopolis, Mobile, and New Orleans.

Mary (Oliver) Glover left a will dated 8 July 1820 (Marengo, AL Wills A, 204) in which she names her sons, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She was from Winchester, VA and a niece of George Gaines. A sister, Rosa Lee Diven married Benjamin Nash Glover of Marengo and evidently a kinsman of this Glover line, though the relationship has not been established.

At the time of the migration from South Carolina, Allen Glover was delayed so that his wife and children made the overland trip with other members of the family and had established a rude home by the time he arrived. He dealt extensively in lands, buying large tracts in Alabama and Mississippi, reaping a fortune from the resale. With George Strother Gaines, the Indian factor for southwestern Alabama, he operated a general store in Demopolis; Glover & Gaines. He was a Methodist and Bishop Asbury visited his home in Abbeville near Calhoun Falls, SC in 1814 and again in 1815. He left a will dividing his estate among his seven children and the surviving granddaughter, daughter of the one child who predeceased him. But on the same day that the will was signed, by deed of gift he disposed of most of his property. Lands with uncleared titles were left for division by his executors: Williamson Allen Glover, Benjamin Nash Glover (His brother-in-law) and Frances Strother Lyon (His son-in-law).

Williamson Allen was an extensive planter in Greene County where he built his home, Rosemount, near Forkland, AL. After the Civil War, he lost his plantation, built a smaller house, and moved his remaining family into the village of Forkland, where he became a postmaster and operated a general store until his death. He became an

I. Lucilla Houston Glover b. Sept. 10, 1842 d. June 24, 1854 d.s.p.

Notes on the children's names:

Willey and Sarah Ann were named for Benjamin's sisters.

John Frederick was named for Benjamin's brother and grandfather.

Mary Evaline was named for Amanda's sister.

Benjamin Robert was named for Benjamin's father and Amanda's father.

Thomas Hughes was named for Amanda's brother.

Nathaniel Banks was named for Amanda's brother-in-law.

Amanda Caroline was named for Amanda and her sister.

Lucilla Houston was named for Amanda's sister or niece, all family names.

Note* There was also a Mrs. Fannie Marshall, who was 95 years old when I saw her in June 1927. Her mind was quite clear. She told me that she was a cousin of Dr. A. B. Calhoun, one of Newnan's oldest residents, and had visited Newnan several times. She said that when she was a little girl, she had often been to Williamson Norwood's and remembered what grand things he had to eat.
